WOODSTOCK NEWS

Charged With Passing a Bad Check.

W. H. Gay, alias George M. Raymond, was arrested by Sheriff J. H. Kiniry at Hartland Four Corners Wednesday afternoon, on the charge of passing a worthless check, and is now in the county jail. Gay is about 23 years old, unmarried, and says his home is in Syracuse, N. Y.

Gay has been working for the Bridgewater Woolen Co. for a few weeks, coming from Lake Placid, N. Y. On Monday evening he went to Owen A. Cobb's store at Bridgewater Corners, where he had done a little trading before, bought about ten dollars' worth of goods and tendered in payment a check for $31, drawn on the Woodstock National bank, made payable to "George M. Raymond," and signed by "Forest J. Whitcomb."

Mr. Cobb hesitated about accepting the check, as he didn't know Gay, who said his name was Raymond, and knew no one by the name of Forest J. Whitcomb, but finally cashed it. Gay took the balance of the amount after the goods were paid for, $20.25, and departed, leaving his purchases at the store.

Tuesday morning Mr. Cobb used the telephone and discovering that the check was worthless got after the young man, who seemed to be making tracks out of the neighborhood very leisurely. He was not molested, however, until Wednesday, when a telephone to Sheriff Kiniry at 1.45 resulted in his arrest about two hours later. The sheriff took an automobile and followed him to Hartland Four Corners by way of South Woodstock, where he took him into custody.

Gay at first asserted his innocence, but later confessed to the sheriff, adding that this was the first time he had done wrong.

An information has been filed against Gay and he will probably be arraigned in county court in a day or two.

Gay said the name and signature on the check were fictitious.

Winter Sports.

The toboggan slide at the Woodstock Country club grounds has been graded and otherwise improved during the past season, and will be ready for business as soon as the Old Farmer's Almanac, or other custodians of the weather, sends us a foot or two of good snow. The management of the slide is now entirely in the hands of E. P. Ashley.

During the winter the slide will be open in the forenoon from 10 o'clock until 12:30 every week day. There will be a man at the tip-off and a team will draw the toboggans up the hill; no sliding will be allowed except at hours when men are on duty.

The slide will be available for parties afternoons or evenings. A guarantee of five dollars will be required; if the party numbers over ten there will be a charge of fifty cents for each additional person.

Once a month during the winter the slide will be open to members of the Country club.

The Fire Alarm Tested.

Box 45 was pulled for a burning chimney in one of H. H. Daniels' houses on Maple street, occupied by Herbert Tucker, last week Friday evening, and off went the new fire alarm whistle just an hour ahead of the time announced for the official test, 7 o'clock. Many people on the street thought it might be really the test blow, taking it rather calmly, but the firemen responded promptly, though the burning chimney was subdued without the use of hose.

The official test took place later and was entirely satisfactory to the village officials, the ceremonious affair of course attracting the interested attention of everybody within hearing distance—some miles north, south, east and west. R. W. LeBaron, the contractor, was present, and he remarked that the fire alarm within an hour of the test was something that hadn't occurred in his experience before.

The fire alarm system was accepted by the board of trustees.

High School Notes.

School opened again on Monday, Dec. 2, after the regular Thanksgiving recess.

A basketball team has been formed. The players are Earl Howard, Fred Sheldon, Lawrence St. Cyr, Earl Ransom, and Edward Dotson. The team is working under difficulties since there is no hall which can be had for regular practice.

tics, but games are being played in The Gem. Last Friday evening the Woodstock High played "The Owls," the score being 58 to 5. This week Friday evening, Dec. 6, there was a game with the Hartford High school at The Gem.

The medical examiners have been making the second regular examination of the pupils.

Prof. George Perkins of the University of Vermont, who lectured in Music hall on Tuesday evening, gave a short but very interesting talk Wednesday morning to the High school pupils. His subject was "Geology of Vermont." He said that there was more geology to the acre in Vermont than in any other state in the union and perhaps in the world. Professor Perkins has such a pleasing manner and is so well versed on his subject that he could not fail to interest all.

National Guard Notes.

The Armory bill has passed the house and is in a fair way to become a law in the near future. It will be the means of strengthening the militia both morally and in numbers, as the inducements coupled with a nice home for each company will tend to get in more men and of the better class.

Co. H, of Montpelier, has been running a week's fair which was both a social and financial success.

The club room of Co. G, through the kindness of some of Woodstock's people, is becoming more and more attractive inasmuch as numerous magazines are appearing regularly on the reading table. The club room is one of the features of the new armory plans that will be worked out carefully and will have a tendency to promote good fellowship among the members.

Co. G will run a New Year's dance which will be managed by the non-commissioned officers, and is sure to be a delightful occasion.

The Washington trip next March will be an event that will afford much pleasure to members of the militia. Drills during January and February will be held and the close order part of the tactics will receive especial attention.

Norman M. Hoisington.

Norman M. Hoisington, civil war veteran, "forty-niner," and well-known as a tinsmith here for more than half a century, died at the Hanover, N. H., hospital Nov. 29. He was in his 86th year.

Mr. Hoisington was born in Hartland, the son of Aaron and Orra Cady Hoisington, of whose eight children only one is now living—Edwin Hoisington of Roxbury, Mass. Coming to Woodstock when 16 years old, he was first employed in Philo Hatch's tinshop, near the courthouse building which stood near the middle bridge, on the Hatch place. For three years he was in California, joining the rush for gold which began in '49.

In 1855 Mr. Hoisington married Miss Cornelia C. Young of Bridgewater, who died 16 years ago. For three years they lived in the house now owned by F. W. B. Smith, and their two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh and Miss Addie Hoisington, were born there. He sold the place when he enlisted in the war, serving three months.

Up to within a very few years Mr. Hoisington continued in the tinsmith's trade, for years he was employed in A. G. Brown's shop and was for a time in business for himself.

Since the death of his wife he has lived with his daughters.

Mr. Hoisington was next to the oldest resident of Woodstock and is about the last of the old-time business men here whose careers began before the civil war. He was a man of strong individuality and of many qualities which won the respect of the townspeople. He was a figure that will be missed here.

The funeral service was held at the house on Maple street Monday, at one o'clock. Rev. H. L. Canfield officiating. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Howe's Pictures Coming.

The title of "Travel Festival" will be more than justified at Music hall on Friday evening, December 13, when Lyman H. Howe will take stay-at-home travelers to the imperial abode of the former sovereigns of France—Versailles—with its world famous fountains, shaded avenues, groves and lawns peopled with a multitude of statues.

Whaling, the burial of the Maine, the bee industry, a thrilling race between a hydroplane and an 800-horse power motor boat in the harbor of Monaco and an exciting adventure with a ferocious lion are only a few of the other features on the program that is entirely new, excepting only that amazing botanical study entitled, "The Birth of Flowers," which Mr. Howe will present again in response to popular demand. No other reproduction that he has ever presented has elicited such numerous requests for another presentation.

WOODSTOCK NOTES

The bear shot by Eddie Willis in West Bridgewater was bought by G. W. Marsha and was exhibited in a window at the Central market for a day or two. The bear wore an unusually fine coat, and weighed, when dressed, 194 pounds.

George D. Harrington of South Royalton and W. Gardner Macarty of this village have bought the business, stock and fixtures of the Central market of H. P. Clark, owner for the past four and a half years. It is an excellent stand, and the new firm has the best of prospects. Mr. Macarty has been employed in the market for several years. Mr. Harrington has been in the hotel business in South Royalton.

The King's Daughters expect to hold a sale during the week before Christmas of fancy articles, Christmas wreaths, etc., and contributions of evergreen suitable for making wreaths will be appreciated by members of the circle.

The friends of the Universalist church are preparing to send barrels of clothing to two schools in the South. Mrs. A. C. Eastman, Mrs. Charles Furber and Miss Hapgood will be at the church parlors this afternoon from two to four o'clock to receive the things. Clothing for children of primary and grammar grades and for boys and girls of High school age is wanted; also sheets, pillow cases and towels. Everything must be in good condition.

The first days of December have brought some fine weather of much mildness and sunshine. Rain Monday night melted most of the snow which fell last week and there are few traces of it left on the hills.

Herman Howes, for about thirty years carpenter on the Billings estate, will give up his place there January 1st, for a well deserved rest. He will not be entirely idle, as he intends to fit up a shop at his home on South street and do custom work, etc.

The Boys' Branch, Y. M. C. A., met for the first time this season on Wednesday evening. The annual meeting and election of officers will be held next week.

The W. R. C. will hold their annual meeting and election of officers this afternoon.

The Rev. W. S. Smithers of Randolph, superintendent of the Montpelier district, will preach in the Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow morning and evening.

Dr. Jackson will speak before the Mothers' League the second Wednesday in December, in the upper room of the Arts and Crafts building, at 7.45 p. m.

Mrs. D. L. Cushing and Fred Cushing of Quebec were Thanksgiving day guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cushing.

The annual meeting and election of officers of George C. Randall Post, G. A. R., takes place today at 1 o'clock.

In a basketball game at The Gem last week Friday evening the Owls defeated the High school team 28 to 5. "Cap" Prior and "Eben" Howland, of the Owls, were among the injured.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Frost of Claremont, N. H., were guests of Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Jackson a few days last week, returning home Monday.

Philip L. Barton of Boston was a holiday guest at Sunridge farm.

Mrs. H. H. Spear has been passing the week with her parents in St. Johnsbury.

The plants for the winter work of Junior Auxiliary Village Improvement society will be given out at the Billings greenhouse this morning at 9 o'clock. Each member is requested to carry a five-inch plant pot.

William Batchelder, the young son of Charles Batchelder, who was seriously burned at his home in Springfield recently by pouring kerosene on the furnace fire, will recover.

Miss Ethel L. Houghton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Houghton, has gone to Gary, Indiana, to be with the family of her brother, Clyde A. Houghton, for the present. Miss Houghton is a trained nurse and has been in Springfield, Mass., for some time.

The Young Men's Christian Association will hold a social at their rooms next week Tuesday evening, Dec. 10, at 7.30, when lunch will be served. It is hoped every member will be present, accompanied by wife or lady friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Woodruff and Miss Woodruff returned from Detroit, Mich., Tuesday.

The fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Albert K. Hubbard Wednesday, Nov. 27, was observed by an informal gathering of friends at their home on South street. Flowers decorated the rooms and there were many handsome gifts from their guests and others. Assisting in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Powers and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Freeman; the ushers were Ernest W. Gilman and Harry E. Flanders, and Miss Hapgood and Mrs. Flanders served tea and coffee. Brief remarks were made by Rev. H. L. Canfield and Dr. A. F. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard were married by Rev. Moses Kidder Nov. 27, 1862, in Bridgewater, where they passed their youth, and for a time after their marriage lived in Sherburne. For seventeen years they have resided in Woodstock. Mr. Hubbard is a carpenter and worked actively at his trade up to within a short time. He is also an excellent horticulturist and he takes much pride in his garden, which is famous for most of the things which a garden produces and always gets an early start in the spring.

WEST WOODSTOCK.

Thomas J. Adams is in Northfield on business.

Adrian Muloy and wife of Waterbury, Conn., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Shattuck Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. May Burroughs of Vergennes is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Mills.

Ralph Braman has been in for slight repairs for a few days.
